JAMES & WELLS
CHAMPIONS OF INNOVATION.

Assignments

The Copyright Act requires that copyright must be assigned in writing. It is therefore important that anything in which copyright resides is formally assigned to the appropriate owner. This is of particular relevance where businesses are bought and sold as the usual agreements used for the sale and purchase of a business do not include specific assignments of copyright.

We can prepare and review assignment documents on your behalf.